Acknowledgments

As always, we are grateful for the continued intellectual and financial assistance of Michael Walker, Executive Director of the Fraser Institute. In addition, Milton Friedman’s continuing support for this project is a source of great pride. Without the assistance and guidance of both Mike Walker and Milton Friedman, this project would never have gotten off the ground.

The members of the Economic Freedom Network again provided valuable support for this report. Our thanks also go to Kathy Makinen at the DeVoe L. Moore Center of Florida State University; Fred McMahon and Amela Karabegović at the Fraser Institute who continue to provide tremendous support in managing the overall project and in keeping us on top of our deadlines; and Lindsey Thomas Martin who does such great work on the design and editing of the book. We are grateful for their hard work on the project.

About the Contributor

Erik Gartzke is Associate Professor of Political Science at Columbia University, and a member of the Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies. His research explores the determinants of international conflict and peace. Topics addressed in published academic papers include globalization, economic interdependence, the democratic peace, alliance and deterrence theory, enduring rivalry, and international institutions. He is currently working on a book titled Perpetuating Peace, which lays out the potential, and possible pitfalls, of a capitalist peace. Professor Gartzke received a PhD in Political Science at the University of Iowa in 1997. He taught for three years at the Pennsylvania State University before moving to Columbia University. Professor Gartzke is also a former infantry officer and combat engineer (USAR).
About the Participating Institutes

Co-publishers of Economic Freedom of the World

African Research Center for Public Policy and Market Process, Kenya
The African Research Center for Public Policy and Market Process, Kenya, is the first research centre founded in Africa by the African Educational Foundation for Public Policy and Market Process, an independent educational organization registered in the United States. The primary mission of the Center and the Foundation is to promote ideas about free markets and voluntary associations in Africa. The Center conducts research on all aspects of free markets, voluntary association, and individual liberty, and publishes the results to as wide an audience as possible. The Center also organizes seminars and conferences to examine liberty and enterprise in Africa. ✉ E-mail: kimenyi@kippra.or.ke.

Albanian Center for Economic Research (ACER), Albania
The Albanian Center for Economic Research is a public-policy institute that focuses on research and advocacy activities. In addition to providing policy-makers and academics with applied economic research, it works to build public understanding of economic development issues. ✉ E-mail: zpreci@interalb.net; website: www.acer.org.al.

Alternate Solutions Institute, Pakistan
Alternate Solutions Institute, founded in 2003, is the first free-market think tank in Pakistan. Its mission is (1) to seek solutions to challenges pertaining to the economy, law, education, and health in accordance with the principles of classical liberalism and (2) to promote the implementation of these solutions. The Institute aims to promote the concept of a limited, responsible government in Pakistan under the rule of law protecting life, liberty, and property of all of its citizens without any discrimination. The Institute conducts research and holds seminars, workshops, and conferences to educate interested students, teachers, and journalists about the principles of classical liberalism. ✉ E-mail: info@asinstitute.org; website: asinstitute.org.

Association for Liberal Thinking, Turkey
The Association for Liberal Thinking is a non-profit, non-governmental organization seeking to introduce the liberal democratic tradition into Turkey. The Association promotes the understanding and acceptance of ideas like liberty, justice, peace, human rights, equality, and tolerance. It also encourages academic writing on liberal themes to help the Turkish people assess contemporary domestic and international changes and attempts to find effective solutions to Turkey’s problems within liberal thought. The Association for Liberal Thinking is not involved in day-to-day politics and has no direct links to any political party or movement. Instead, as an independent intellectual group, it aims to set broader political agendas so as to contribute to the liberalization of economics and politics in Turkey. ✉ E-mail: liberal@ada.net.tr; website: www.liberal-dt.org.tr.

Association pour la Liberté Economique et le Progrès Social (ALEPS), France
ALEPS promotes the idea of free markets generating social progress. It connects French liberal intellectuals with the global scientific community. Thanks to its permanent contacts with various prestigious foreign institutes, in 1990 ALEPS published “Manifeste de l’Europe pour les Européens,” signed by 600 faculties from 28 countries.

The economic collapse of central planning and the disappearance of totalitarian regimes in Eastern Europe has not solved all social problems. A post-socialist society has still to be set up, both in Eastern Europe as well as in Western countries such as France, where 40 years of the welfare state have led to mass unemployment, fiscal oppression, an explosive expansion of social security, an increase in poverty and inequality, and a loss of moral virtues and spiritual values. ALEPS provides the political and intellectual push towards this necessary revival.  E-mail: jacques.garello@univ.u-3mrs.fr.

Cato Institute, United States of America
Founded in 1977, the Cato Institute is a research foundation dedicated to broadening debate about public policy to include more options consistent with the traditional American principles of limited government, individual liberty, free markets, and peace. To that end, the Institute strives to achieve greater involvement by the intelligent, concerned, lay public in questions of policy and the proper role of government through an extensive program of publications and seminars.  E-mail: ivasquez@cato.org; website: www.cato.org.

Causa Liberal, Portugal
Causa Liberal is an independent, non-partisan, non-profit organization of Portuguese individuals who share the principles of the classical liberal tradition and wish to further its application in modern-day Portugal. Its mission is to defend the principles of the free society and its building blocks: individual rights, the rule of law, free markets, and private property. Its primary goals are to establish and consolidate a network of individuals with an interest in the study, discussion, and promotion of the classical liberal tradition, and to advance free-market ideas and policies in Portugal.  E-mail: causaliberal@yahoo.com; website: www.causaliberal.net.

Center for the Dissemination of Economic Knowledge (CEDICE), Venezuela
CEDICE is a non-partisan, non-profit, private association dedicated to the research and promotion of philosophical, economic, political, and social thinking that focuses on individual initiative and a better understanding of the free-market system and free and responsible societies. To this end, CEDICE operates a library and bookstore, publishes the series, Venezuela Today, and other studies, provides economic training for journalists, and conducts special events and community programs.  E-mail: cedice@cedice.org.ve; website: www.cedice.org.ve.

The Center for Economic and Political Research, Azerbaijan
The Center for Economic and Political Research, Azerbaijan, is a non-profit, non-governmental, research institute founded in 1994. Its mission is to facilitate the country’s democratization and economic liberalization and to increase the role of civil society. The main objectives of the Center’s activities are analyzing the economic situation and progress of market reforms, political processes, foreign political relations, and regional economic and political tendencies. The Center also conducts sociological surveys and holds conferences, round-tables, and seminars on different aspects of economic and political reforms in the country.  E-mail: sb@azerin.com.

Center for Entrepreneurship and Economic Development (CEED), Montenegro
The Center for Entrepreneurship and Economic Development is the first non-governmental, non-partisan free-market centre established in Montenegro. Its mission is to educate entrepreneurs about private ownership, democratic society, free markets, and the rule of law through a number of programs, initiatives, publications, and events. The Center was established to meet the demand for business knowledge by pioneering entrepreneurs who needed training to operate in a new environment after the break-up of the former Yugoslavia.  E-mail: cfepg@cg.yu; website: www.visit-ceed.org.

Center for Free Enterprise, Korea
The Center for Free Enterprise (CFE) is a foundation committed to promoting free enterprise, limited government, freedom and individual responsibility, the rule of law and restraint of violence. Funded by the members of the Federation of Korean Industries (FKI), the CFE was founded as a non-profit, independent foundation on April 1, 1997, at a time of economic crisis in Korean society. The CFE has concentrated on championing a free economy through books and reports on public policies, statistics, and analyses. In workshops and policy forums, the CFE has put forward alternatives to policies proposed as solutions for issues facing Korean society.  E-mail: csn@cfe.org; website: www.cfe.org.
Center for Politiske Studier, Denmark
The Center for Politiske Studier (Center for Political Studies, CEPOS) was founded in 2004 as an independent, non-profit think-tank based in Copenhagen. It seeks to promote a free and prosperous society by conducting research that will foster the policies, institutions, and culture that will best support a market economy, rule of law, and a civil society consisting of free and responsible individuals. It does so by producing academic studies and policy analyses aimed partly at general political debate and partly at the political process in areas such as welfare, taxation, regulation, education, entrepreneurship, health care, the environment, and the organization of the public sector. E-mail: info@cepos.dk; website: www.cepos.dk.

The Center for Research and Communication, Philippines
The Center for Research and Communication (CRC) has, since 1967, conducted research and published works on domestic and international economic and political issues that affect the Asia-Pacific region. It provides forums for discussion and debate among academicians, businessmen, civil officials, and representatives of other sectors that shape public opinion and chart the course of policies. CRC is the main research arm of the University of Asia and the Pacific in Metro Manila, Philippines, and currently serves as the Secretariat of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Business Advisory Council. E-mail: hbasilio@info.com.ph.

Centre for Civil Society, India
The Centre for Civil Society is an independent, non-profit, research and educational organization inaugurated on August 15, 1997 and devoted to improving the quality of life for all citizens of India. The CCS maintains that, having earlier attained their political independence from an alien state, the Indian people must now seek economic, social, and cultural independence from the Indian state. This can work from two directions simultaneously: a "mortar" program of building or rebuilding the institutions of civil society and a "hammer" program of readjusting the size and scope of the political society. The CCS conducts monthly dialogues on topical issues to introduce classical liberal philosophy and market-based solutions into public debate. It has published Agenda for Change, a volume in 17 chapters that outlines policy reforms for the Indian government, Israel Kirzner’s How Markets Work, and Self-Regulation in the Civil Society, edited by Ashok Desai. It organizes Liberty and Society seminars for college students and journalists. E-mail: parth@ccsindia.org; website: www.ccsindia.org.

Centre for the New Europe, Belgium
The Centre for the New Europe is a European research institute, based in Brussels, that promotes a market economy, personal liberty, and creativity and responsibility in an ordered society. CNE is founded on the belief that European integration can work only in a society led by a spirit of democratic capitalism. The Centre develops policy alternatives, encourages economic growth and deregulation, seeks new market-based solutions for social and environmental concerns, and promotes individual freedom, choice and responsibility. E-mail: info@cne.org; website: www.cne.org.

Centro de Investigación para el Desarrollo A.C., Mexico

Centro de Investigación para el Desarrollo A.C. (CIDAC) is an independent, not-for-profit research institution devoted to the study of Mexico’s economy and political system. Its philosophy is that Mexico’s economy can be made viable only through a greater, more efficient, and more competitive private sector. CIDAC was founded in 1980 as an executive training facility for the financial sector at large (public and private, banking and business). It received an endowment from Banamex, then Mexico’s largest private bank. In 1983, immediately after the expropriation of the private banks, CIDAC changed its mandate from teaching to research. Over the last five years, CIDAC has held over 40 conferences for businessmen and its professionals continuously address academic, policy, and business forums. CIDAC has also published 19 books on various economic, political, and policy issues, 45 monographs, and over 500 op-ed pieces in Mexican, American, and European papers and magazines. ✶ E-mail: cidacmx@aol.com; website: www.cidac.org.

The Economic Policy Institute “Bishkek Consensus” (EPI), Kyrgyzstan, was created in December of 2003 as a non-profit, non-partisan, independent institute with developed partnerships and cooperative relationships with government, business, international community, civil society, and Media. EPI’s mission is to promote economic, social, and governance reforms in Kyrgyzstan, involving institutions of civil society to elaborate and execute the reforms, developing local potential and using best international experience. Its strategic position is to be an independent and highly objective source of information and research on public-policy issues, as well as an unbiased forum for collaboration of diverse interest groups in the reform of public policy. ✶ E-mail: office@epi.kg; website: www.epi.kg.

The Estonian Institute for Open Society Research, Estonia

The Estonian Institute for Open Society Research was established in 1993 as an independent, non-profit, public-policy research institute. EOSOR’s research and public-communication programs focus on the key issues of Estonian social and political development: building a free-market economy and open civil society; enhancing social stability and integration of minority groups; and promoting Estonia’s integration into European and world structures. EIOSR’s first effort was the Estonian translation of Milton Friedman’s Capitalism and Freedom in early 1994. Current EIOSR projects include promoting the idea of philanthropy to local businesses and elaborating future scenarios concerning the integration of the Russian minority into Estonian society. ✶ E-mail: vollow@lin2.tpu.ee.

The F.A. Hayek Foundation, Slovak Republic

The F.A. Hayek Foundation is an independent and non-partisan, non-profit organization that provides a forum for the exchange of opinions among scholars, businessmen, and policy-makers on the causes of, and solutions to, economic, social, and political problems. It proposes practical reforms of the economy, education, social security, and legislation as the Slovak Republic is transformed into an open society. Education of high-school and university students is a large part of its activities. The F.A. Hayek Foundation promotes classical liberalism, which was virtually absent until 1989: market economy, reduced role of the government, rule of law and individual choice, responsibilities and rights to life, liberty, and property. ✶ E-mail: hayek@changenet.sk; website: www.hayek.sk.

The Fraser Institute, Canada

The Fraser Institute is an independent Canadian economic and social research and educational organization. It has as its objective the redirection of public attention to the role of competitive markets in providing for the well-being of Canadians. Where markets work, the Institute’s interest lies in trying to discover prospects for improvement. Where markets do not work, its interest lies in finding the reasons. Where competitive markets have been replaced by government control, the interest of the Institute lies in documenting objectively the nature of the improvement or deterioration resulting from government intervention. The work of the Institute is assisted by an Editorial Advisory Board of internationally renowned economists. The Institute enjoys registered charitable status in both Canada and the United States, and is funded entirely by the tax-deductible contributions of its supporters, sales of its publications, and revenue from events. ✶ E-mail: info@fraserinstitute.ca; website: www.fraserinstitute.ca.

Free Market Center, Serbia

Free Market Center (FMC) is a non-profit, non-governmental organization founded in 2001. It is the only free-market think-tank in Serbia. The Center promotes the understanding and acceptance of ideas like individual liberty, the free-market economy, limited government, and peaceful cooperation. To that end, the FMC strives to achieve greater involvement in redirecting the attention not only of leading thinkers but also of members of the public, entrepreneurs, policy-makers, and students to the role of free markets and the proper role of government. Through publications, discussion forums, and conferences, the Center seeks to disseminate classical liberal ideas. ✶ E-mail: fmc@yubc.net; website: www.fmc.org.yu.

Lithuanian Free Market Institute, Lithuania
Lithuanian Free Market Institute (LFMI) is an independent, non-profit organization established in 1990 to advance the ideas of individual freedom and responsibility, free markets, and limited government. Since its inception, LFMI has been at the forefront of economic thought and reform in Lithuania. Not only has LFMI helped frame policy debates by conducting research and creating reform packages on key issues, it has also conducted extensive educational campaigns and played a key “behind-the-scenes” role in helping to craft and refine legislative proposals. LFMI promoted the idea of a currency board and provided decisive input to the Law on Litas Credibility. LFMI led the creation of the legal and institutional framework for the securities market and contributed significantly to the country’s privatization legislation. LFMI initiated and participated in the policy-making process on private, fully funded pension insurance. LFMI’s recommendations were adopted in legislation on commercial banks, the Bank of Lithuania, credit unions, insurance, and foreign investment. LFMI significantly influenced the improvement of company, bankruptcy and competition law.

LFMI has provided a valuable input to tax and budgetary policy. LFMI’s influence led to introducing program budgeting, exempting reinvested profits, reducing inheritance and gift taxes, abolishing capital-gains tax, suspending the introduction of real-estate tax, eliminating income tax on interest on loans from foreign banks and international financial organizations as well as revising stamp duties, VAT regulations, and other taxes. LFMI initiated a deregulation and debureaucratization process aimed at eliminating excessive business regulations and downsizing bureaucracy. An important influence was exerted on the revision of employment, capital market, land purchase, and building regulations. Passage was gained for a deregulation-based approach to the fight against corruption. ✉ E-mail: LFMI@FreeMa.Org; website: www.FreeMa.org.

Making Our Economy Right (MOER), Bangladesh

MOER (Making Our Economy Right), founded in 1991, is the country’s lone free-market institute and continues to struggle to promote free-market capitalism against all odds. The concept of individual freedom and free markets determining the supply of goods, services, and capital is little understood in Bangladesh. For the past 50 years or so, Fabian socialism and the doctrines of Karl Marx were the basis of our country’s economy. MOER contributes free-market, libertarian articles in English and Bangla newspapers. We also moderate a weekly radio talk show that focuses on liberalization of the economy. MOER also publishes books both in Bangla and in English for free distribution to libraries and others with the support of the International Policy Network of London. MOER’s fourth book, published this year, Clamoring for Free Market Freedom in Bangladesh, has a foreword by Nobel laureate Milton Friedman. The book is a compilation of articles by Nizam Ahmad. ✉ E-mail: drmanzur@citechco.net; website: http://www.moer.org.

The Nassau Institute, Bahamas

The Nassau Institute is an independent, non-political, non-profit institute that promotes economic growth, employment, and entrepreneurial activity. It believes that this can best be achieved with a free-market economy and a decent society—one that embraces the rule of law, the right of private property, the free exchange of property and services, and the individual virtues of self-control, commitment, and good will. ✉ E-mail: joanmt@coralwave.com or info@nassauinstitute.org; website: www.nassauinstitute.org.

Other Measures Related to Economic Freedom

Economic Freedom of North America

Economic Freedom of North America, an intellectual offshoot of the Economic Freedom of the World, measures economic freedom in the Canadian provinces and US states. The index attempts to gauge the extent of restrictions on economic freedom imposed by governments in North America. The study employs two indexes: the first is the subnational index, which measures the impact of provincial/state and local governments, whereas the second index measures the restrictions of all levels of government—federal, provincial/state and local. All 10 provinces and 50 states are included in both indexes. The third annual report was published in the summer of 2005.

NERI Index of Marketization of China’s Provinces

The NERI Index of Marketization of Chinese Provinces uses the methodology of Economic Freedom of the World to rank Chinese provinces according to their level of market development. The Index of Marketization provides valuable information on institutions and other variables of central importance to economic freedom but its primary purpose is to measure the development of competitive markets in China’s provinces. In other words, the index measures how far provinces have moved along the path to a market economy. The index has five areas:

1. Relation between government and the market
2. The non-state sector
3. Manufactured goods market
4. The factor market
5. Intermediary institutions and legal environment.

Economic Freedom of the Arab World

Economic Freedom of the Arab World is modeled on the EFW index and measures economic freedom in the same five areas: Size of Government: Expenditures, Taxes, and Enterprises; Legal Structure and Security of Property Rights; Access to Sound Money; Freedom to Trade Internationally; and Regulation of Credit, Labor, and Business. The underlying data for some of the EFW components were unavailable for some of the Arab countries; therefore, in some cases, similar variables were used instead of these components. The index measures the restrictions on economic freedom imposed by governments in 16 of the 22 Arab League Countries.
